Earth Day ceremony at Campbell Park on Friday

Earth Day will be celebrated at Joe Mack Campbell Park on Friday, April 22, and students from Westside Elementary's third-grade class will join in, wearing Earth Day T-shirts that they made.

The public ceremony will be held at 10 a.m. at the park playground. The Arkansas Forestry Commission will plant a Pin Oak tree and distribute hardwood saplings to the 130 students. The Westside students also made a canvas art creation of melted, recycled crayons.

Jonesboro Mayor Harold Perrin, Tom Lindsey of Arkansas Forestry Commission and Parks Superintendent Mike Donahue will speak at the celebration.

The students will celebrate, then go to the playground and have lunch.
